

Mathematical Modelling and The Rise of LLMs

Nira Chamberlain

Recently, there has been much discussion about LLMs tackling complex mathematical proofs. But can LLMs actually construct mathematical models, and how effectively can they do so? In this special session for the Black Heroes of Mathematics, Professor Nira Chamberlain will explore these questions through a live modelling demonstration